

IN-USE CREDIT RATING METHODOLOGIES COMMENT FORM<sup>1</sup>

Moody's invites market participants to provide comments on its credit rating methodologies currently in use by completing this form and submitting it to MethodologyComments@moodys.com. Each submitted comment should specify which in-use credit rating methodology is addressed, and should not contain any threatening, abusive, indecent, obscene, defamatory, or otherwise illegal or inappropriate content, or content that would breach the intellectual property rights of others. Please check the Rating Methodologies Page on www.moodys.com for a list of credit rating methodologies currently in use. Only comments that explicitly identify a specific credit rating methodology currently in use will be considered.

We will publish received comments as submitted (and by submitting this form you consent to such publication) unless: (i) you specifically request confidentiality by selecting such option below; or (ii) the comment is inappropriate, in Moody's sole discretion. Published comments represent the views of market participants, not Moody's, and Moody's shall not be obliged to verify the identity or affiliation of each commentator, nor that the comments submitted validly represent the views of the commentator's stated organization. As such, Moody's cannot be held liable for any of the comments published.
